Instructions

Eligibility requirements

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2023, income received from a pension, an annuity, a selfemployed retirement plan, deferred compensation, IRA distribution, or other retirement plan benefits, may be excludable from taxable income. To be eligible for the exclusion, you must be 55 years of age or older or disabled. If you are a surviving spouse or survivor of an individual who would have qualified for the exclusion you may also be eligible. To be considered disabled you must be receiving retirement income on the basis of a documented disability or you must meet federal or state criteria for disability. Federal Civil Service annuitants who want lowa tax withheld from federal pensions should contact the Office of Personnel Management at 888-767-6738 or retire@opm.gov.

Withholding rates

Payers have the option of withholding at a rate of 5%, using the withholding formula, or using the withholding tables.

Low income exemption

Taxpayers under 55 are exempt if:

- Your total income is less than $5,000 and you are claimed as a dependent on another person's lowa return.
- You are single and your total income is $9,000 or less and you are not claimed as a dependent on another person's lowa return.
- Your filing status is other than single and your total income is $13,500 or less.
