

SUMMARY OF TAX YEAR 2023 FORM CHANGES

The Iowa Department of Revenue has released 2023 Iowa income tax forms to our secure site for software developers and has communicated these actions to the National Association of Computerized Tax Processors (NACTP), software developers, and other interested parties. In a July 14, 2023 communication to NACTP and software developers, the Department outlined a number of legislative changes regarding Iowa individual income taxes and on September 7, 2023, a communication was sent to NACTP and software developers regarding legislative changes to Iowa business income taxes. A summary of those communications and the significant changes made to tax forms can be found below.

Software developers were notified that the Iowa 1040 was released to the Department's secure site on August 31, 2023, and has since been updated. Business Income Tax

Notable Legislative and Other Changes

- Starting point for Iowa corporate income tax is the federal taxable income, not the federal taxable income before the net operating loss
- Iowa adopted a pass-through entity tax (PTET), SALT cap workaround. Beginning with the 2023 forms, the IA 1065 and IA 1120S will provide a mechanism to elect into this voluntary tax
 - IA 1065 and IA 1120S filers who make this election will also be required to make estimated payments, and will be required to file the IA 2220
- Mandatory electronic filing for certain IA 1120, IA 1120F, IA 1065, IA 1120S, and IA PTE-C filers
- Research Activities Credits caused substantial changes to the IA 128 and IA 128S
- Several Iowa modifications have been repealed for 2023, resulting in a number of lines being removed and reserved for future use on the:
 - IA 1120, Schedule A
 - IA 1065, Schedule A
 - IA 1120S, Schedule A
- IA 1120F Schedules A and D have been consolidated into a single IA 1120F Schedule A
- New lines added to the Iowa business activity ratio (BAR) schedule for filers using:
 - IA 1120
 - IA 1065
 - IA 1120S

Forms Changes

- IA 124 (new) - NOL Adjustment Schedule
- IA 1120 and IA 1120F - Altered taxable income calculation
